

THE ROCKS WILL CRY OUT

2022 - Ongoing

After returning to Ireland after 14 years in South Africa, If They Don't Speak explores the idea of rocks crying out in the absence of conversations around faith in Ireland. The photographs were created through the process of grappling with reality within this new landscape; physical, social, emotional and spiritual. The series documents solitary paths tread in literal exploration of the scripture Luke 19:40, six hundred kilometres, in five countries, over a four month period.
